

International Travel Criteria and Process

Purpose of Travel: SLCC recognizes the value of international travel to faculty and staff development and to internationalize our college. International travel funded in part or in whole by the College should have significant benefit to the institution. Purposes generally include, but are not limited to: professional development (including conference attendance, and/or presenting at a conference), service to students (including leading a study abroad group, or maintaining an international partnership or grant), workforce development partnerships, or international mentoring relationships.

Eligibility: In order to best use our limited resources to serve as many full-time faculty and staff as possible, an individual may not travel internationally using college funds more than once per academic year. Priority will be given to those who have not traveled internationally on college funds within the last two years or domestically during the year. International conferences should only be attended when a local conference will not provide similar benefits. In addition, whenever possible and appropriate, those traveling internationally for college business but not funded by the college should rotate so that other qualified individuals may have the opportunity.

Any SLCC employee who proposes international travel on college business must follow the process outlined below. International travel must be approved prior to any arrangements being made. If this process is not followed, the traveler assumes the responsibility for any expenses incurred. All travel arrangements must follow school policy. Travel to Mexico does not require VP and higher signatures on the International Travel Request and Authorization Form. These international procedures do not apply for travel to Canada.

All forms must be completed, signed and sent to the faculty or staff members' Associate Dean, Dean, or Director. Faculty participating in a Study Abroad program should deliver forms to the Engaged Learning Office (CT 252) after receiving the proper signatures.

Process:

If the purpose of your international travel is to present a paper or a workshop at a conference, complete the International Conference Presentation Prior Acknowledgment Form (attached) before you submit your presentation proposal to the conference organizers. Gather signatures from your department Associate Dean, Dean, or Director and keep the original to attach to your International Travel Request and Authorization Form.

For all international travel, please plan ahead; international documents take time and the approval process may take several weeks. Non-refundable deposits or other fees shall not be paid prior to full authorization is completed.

- Obtain a passport if you don't already have one. If the destination country requires a visa, you will need your passport before applying for the visa.
- Faculty requesting Travel Grant Funds must submit an application to their department Associate Dean, Dean, or Director. Travel Grant Funds may be authorized pending approval for international travel.
- Fill out the International Travel Request and Authorization Form.

Note that you will need to:

- 1) Attach a written rationale for your trip, including the purpose for travel, how your travel will benefit SLCC and how the information will be shared with the College when you return. If you are faculty, this rationale may be the same as you submitted with your Faculty Travel Grant application. If there are exceptional circumstances that warrant travel that does not meet the eligibility guidelines, please request an exception and provide justification in your rationale.
 - 2) Attach the International Conference Presentation Prior Acknowledgement Form verifying that you received approval from your chair/director prior to proposing to present at an international conference (if applicable).
 - 3) Attach relevant travel information and itinerary—for example, if you are attending a conference, you will need to attach the conference brochure.
 - 4) Copy and attach your passport photo page to the form.
- Collect all the signatures requested on the required travel form. Please note that signatures by chairs, directors and deans indicate that sufficient funds as outlined on the form are available and will be transferred to the appropriate index/account when approval is granted.
 - Once your international travel has been approved, you may make reservations (travel arrangements for Study Abroad trips must be organized through the Engaged Learning Office). Prior to departure, your department or the Engaged Learning Office will need to have the following forms on file:
 - International Travel Request and Authorization form
 - International Travel Emergency Contact and Health/Welfare Form
 - Statement of Responsibility and Assumption of Risk and Terms, Conditions
 - Prior to your departure, you may wish to purchase travel insurance.
 - Visit the Center for Disease Control and Prevention website to determine what immunizations are recommended for your destination.
 - If you are unable to travel after all, or the source of funding for your travel changes significantly, please let your department know.
 - Following your travel, it will be necessary to complete a SLCC Travel Settlement form if college funds paid for your trip. Process the form through your department. Study Abroad trips follow separate financial procedures through the Engaged Learning Office.
 - Following your travel, disseminate information about your trip as you outlined in your proposal. Please notify your Associate Dean, Dean, or Director of these activities.
