

Salt Lake Teens Write Mentors

Publicity Release & Criminal Background Check

I [Participant Name, please print] _____, understand that while I am involved in the Salt Lake Teens Write program there may be written materials published, photographs taken, voice recordings made, or other records made of my image or likeness, including the publication of my name, for the purpose of promoting or publicizing the program and/or disseminating work prepared for the program. Some or all of these materials may be published on paper, on the Salt Lake City Public Library or SLCC Community Writing Center websites, or through other forms of electronic media.

I expressly permit my writing, image, likeness, and/or name to be used in connection with publicizing or promoting the Salt Lake Teens Write mentoring program and/or disseminating any work prepared for the program.

I further understand that I shall not be entitled to any compensation or anything of value in connection with the use or dissemination of my writing, image, likeness, or name.

I release and discharge the Salt Lake City Public Library and the SLCC Community Writing Center from any and all claims and demands arising out of or in connection with the use of my writing, image, likeness or name, including any and all claims of libel.

Criminal Background Check

Because you will be working with teens under the age of 18, a criminal background check through Utah's Bureau of Criminal Investigation (BCI) must be completed as part of the application process. There will be no cost to you for the background check; however, we do need your permission before we can initiate this process. Please provide the requested information and initial the appropriate lines below to indicate your willingness to allow us to perform a background check.
