COMMENCEMENT CEREMONY

FRIDAY, MAY 8, 2026

Out of respect for each graduate, we kindly ask all attendees to remain seated for the duration of the ceremony. Each name represents years of dedication and achievement, and departing early can be disruptive and take away from the recognition of fellow graduates.

We ask that you remain with us through the conclusion of the ceremony so that every graduate receives the same recognition and support.

It is the policy of Salt Lake Community College not to discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, disability, religion, or any other status protected under applicable federal, state, or local law.

Individuals who require ADA accommodations may contact Accessibility and Disability Services at 801-957-4659.

Dear SLCC Class of 2026,

Congratulations on your graduation from Salt Lake Community College! This moment is the culmination of years of dedication, perseverance, and belief in what's possible, and today we celebrate the hard work that brought you here.

Each of you arrived at SLCC with your own goals, responsibilities, and hopes for the future. Some returned to college after years away from school, some became the first in their families to earn a college degree, and many balanced work, family, or other commitments while pursuing their studies. Along the way, you developed new skills, built meaningful connections, and discovered strengths you may not have known you had. You grew not only in knowledge but also in resilience and confidence, and today's commencement reflects a personal triumph for each of you and for the family members and friends who supported you.

Wherever your path leads next, you carry forward the curiosity and determination you developed here. The work you have done at SLCC will continue to shape the opportunities ahead, and I encourage you to remain open to learning and generous with your talents. Your ideas, your voice, and your commitment to improving the communities around you matter.

On behalf of the entire college, thank you for making SLCC part of your journey. We are proud of you, and we look forward to seeing the many ways you contribute to the world in the years ahead.

Go Bruins!

SALT LAKE COMMUNITY COLLEGE CLASS OF 2026

The appearance of a name in this program as a degree recipient is presumptive evidence of graduation and graduation honors, but it must not, in any sense, be regarded as conclusive. The official transcript records kept by the college remain the official documentation of the degree.

CRYSTAL CALL MAGGELET

CEO & Chair, FJ Management
 CEO & Chief Adventure Guide, Maverik

For Crystal Maggelet, success was never about having a perfectly mapped-out plan. As a teenager, she didn't know exactly what she wanted to do, but she did know how she wanted to approach life. Do the best you can. Work hard. Keep doors open. It was a simple philosophy, shaped early by conversations with adults she admired and questions about what they might do differently if given another chance.

"There's no downside to doing your best," Crystal says. "That's really the way I've approached my life."

That mindset would eventually guide her through a career defined not only by opportunity but by responsibility. As CEO and Chair of FJ Management Inc. and CEO of Maverik, Crystal has led organizations through periods of significant change and moments that demanded resilience, clarity, and trust. For her, leadership has never been about ego. It's about confidence: believing in yourself enough to face hard things honestly and move forward.

That belief was tested early in her tenure as CEO of Flying J, when the company was navigating bankruptcy. Faced with intense scrutiny and high-stakes decisions, Crystal learned that integrity and honesty were not optional — they were essential. "The only way through was to be completely honest," she says. "That's how you build credibility and trust."

Those lessons now shape not only how she leads, but how she gives back.

Education has long been central to Crystal's philanthropic work, particularly when it comes to expanding access for students who might otherwise be left behind. She worries about the talented, driven students who are willing to work hard but lack the financial means to pursue education.

"How tragic is it if a capable, first-generation student is doing everything right and simply can't afford college?" she asks. "Our world would be a better place if more people had access to education."

As graduates prepare to take their next steps, Crystal encourages them to stay open to opportunity, and to act when it appears. "You can put things off forever," she says. "Sometimes you have to jump in with both feet. Mistakes are inevitable, but what matters is how you respond. Learn, take responsibility, and keep moving forward."

Salt Lake Community College has been awarding HONORARY DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS degrees to deserving individuals since 1986. The SLCC Board of Trustees selects outstanding individuals in the community who have achieved distinction, made extraordinary contributions to their professional fields, and made a meaningful impact in their communities and/or to higher education to receive this honor.

FERNANDA BÖHME BIRKELAND

AAS, Fashion Design, 2004 | Co-founder, Böhme

Fernanda Böhme Birkeland's resourcefulness, work ethic, and drive can be traced back to her childhood. At eight years old, she and her family moved from Rio de Janeiro to Provo, where, to make ends meet, she, her two siblings, and her parents cleaned office buildings most nights from 4 p.m. to midnight.

"We lived below the poverty line. If I wanted anything, I had to be creative and figure it out on my own — that mindset has stuck with me," says Fernanda, who picked up English quicker than her parents, and began navigating the adult world by translating for them.

As she grew up, Fernanda's love of fashion grew with her. By age 14, she was sewing her own clothes, collecting Vogue magazines, and teaching herself how to recreate the styles she admired. Her dream was to attend fashion school in New York City — until she discovered the Fashion Institute at SLCC, a far more realistic option financially.

"I was surprised initially by how incredibly qualified the teachers were and their industry experience. I realized I didn't need to be in a big city to get what I wanted," recalls Fernanda, who cherished the individualized attention and small-class environment she found at the college. "I would not have found that in Los Angeles or New York."

In 2006, she and her sister, Vivien, co-founded Böhme, a women's lifestyle clothing brand. Vivien served as the CEO and Fernanda as the creative director. "My sister was the left brain, I was the right brain, and our startup funding was a credit card," says Fernanda.

Today, the brand has expanded to over 25 locations across 7 states, supported by a strong online presence and a team of more than 300 women. Böhme has been named one of the Top Women-Run Businesses on the Inc. 500 Fastest-Growing Companies list and was awarded the 2019 SBA Business of the Year for Utah.

Her advice to graduates is to not shy away from taking on difficult things and to not be afraid of failure. "Failure is an opportunity to evolve," says Fernanda. "Think of it this way: The most valuable person in a mine isn't the one who's never seen it collapse — it's the engineer who has survived it."

Salt Lake Community College's prestigious DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARD honors SLCC graduates and former students for professional excellence and exemplary service to their communities in their chosen professional or academic fields. It's the highest award the college bestows upon alumni. Traditionally, one female alumna and one male alumnus are selected as honorees each year.

AARON THOMAS STARKS

AA, Political Science and Government, 2013 | President & CEO, 47G

Aaron Starks will tell you that life is about people — and that no one is truly self made. Instead, it's the individuals who take an interest in you and offer support along the way who help shape your path. He found those people at SLCC, along with a college experience he could successfully navigate.

"I felt nervous being on campus at first, unsure of myself," recalls Aaron, a first generation student. "But then it felt right because it was affordable, and it allowed me to build school around everything else happening in my life." Aaron had recently returned from an LDS mission to a difficult job market and had started a window-washing business to support himself. Looking back, he describes attending SLCC as one of the most important decisions he has made.

"I truly believe that if you do your best with the opportunities in front of you — whatever your circumstances — you will create the next opportunity," says Aaron.

While at the college, Aaron served as student body president, gaining early exposure to leadership and public service. During his tenure, he focused on practical ways to support students, including establishing a scholarship for single parents — an effort inspired by his own mom.

His interest in political science grew alongside these experiences. As president of the Utah Student Association, a council comprised of each student body president from Utah higher education institutions, he worked with leaders such as former Governor Gary Herbert and collaborated with student leaders across the country.

Aaron went on to earn a degree in political science from the University of Utah and later an MBA from Duke University. These experiences helped shape his approach to working at the intersection of policy, business, and economic development.

Professionally, Aaron has built a reputation for bringing people and organizations together. As the leader of 47G, he has focused on aligning industry, government, and community partners to support growth in aerospace, space, defense, and energy. Under his leadership, Utah has developed one of the country's first coordinated Advanced Air Mobility ecosystems, helping position the state as a leader in emerging aviation technologies.

AIMEE WORTHEN BIRDSALL

Department Coordinator, Associate Professor,
School of Science, Mathematics and Engineering

My path to teaching was not a direct one. I began my career as a structural engineer before realizing I was drawn to helping others learn engineering. That shift continues to shape how I approach teaching today.

I don't see engineering as something reserved for a select few, but as a discipline accessible to anyone willing to put in the effort. I work with students from a wide range of backgrounds, many of whom don't initially see themselves as engineers. I strive to create a classroom where students feel they belong, ask questions, and build confidence alongside technical skills.

To me, this means meeting students where they are. For entry-level students, I help them learn how to succeed in college and connect them with available resources. At the sophomore level, I emphasize collaboration and active learning.

For transfer-ready students, I offer support through real-world applications and professional preparation.

Outside the classroom, I work to build pathways into engineering. I engage middle and high school students through programs like Girl Scouts of Utah, FIRST LEGO League, and SheTech to spark early interest in STEM and help students see themselves in engineering.

At the early college level, I developed ENGR 1070, a general education robotics course with no prerequisites that reaches students across multiple campuses and nine local high schools, expanding access to engineering principles. For current SLCC engineering students, I build opportunities by advising the Engineering Club, partnering with Texas Instruments on a mentorship program, collaborating with the University of Utah's Crus Scholars Program to provide hands-on undergraduate research, and helping develop a makerspace with support from the Utah STEM Action Center.

The TEACHING EXCELLENCE AWARD is given by the Salt Lake Community College Foundation Board to recognize excellence in professional education at SLCC. Both full-time and adjunct faculty are eligible. The award reflects a cumulative body of teaching excellence rather than just a single year of exemplary work.

ERICA MARIE GROVER

Lead Course Coordinator, Adjunct Instructor,
Emergency Medical Technician Program
Salt Lake Technical College

Over six years of teaching, my educational philosophy has become increasingly student-oriented by prioritizing active learning and comprehension over passive lecturing and meeting grade minimums. A clear, organized curriculum is a key component to my approach, but meaningful learning truly evolves when the classroom environment is dedicated to each student as an individual rather than a single teaching unit.

Not every individual learns in the same way, so I work to make every student feel supported, welcomed, confident, and invested in their effort. I match their investment with my own dedication to their success by incorporating methods that are useful to all students of differing backgrounds, reflecting the diversity of the students and communities we serve.

A diverse student body also encounters diverse barriers to education, including economic, scheduling, commuting to campus, and language. My teaching strategies intentionally acknowledge and address these barriers, helping students prepare for academic success while setting them up for real-world practice.

I am also always aiming to improve. The structured feedback and review system I created helps the program improve in all facets of instruction, and contributes to SLCC students having consistent pass rates on national exams and certifications.

Beyond my focus on students' needs, I also teach that it's necessary to be a good person. It is incredibly important to incorporate empathy in the field by remembering those in need are living people rather than medical training dummies.

STACEY A. ROMNEY

Associate Professor, Physical Therapist Assistant Program
School of Health Sciences

My teaching philosophy is grounded in the simple belief that students learn best when they feel safe, supported, and actively engaged. That belief has been shaped by more than 30 years of clinical experience and has continued to evolve through my work as an educator.

Early in my teaching career, I focused heavily on content delivery. Over time, I realized that teaching is less about what I know and more about how students experience learning. I now intentionally design learning environments where students engage with content in ways that are authentic and relevant to their future practice. In physical therapy education, this is especially important. Students must integrate cognitive knowledge, psychomotor skills, and professional behaviors all at once. Through hands-on labs, performance-based practical exams, and both onsite and telehealth pro bono clinic experiences, our Physical Therapist Assistant faculty recreate the types of situations students will encounter during clinicals and in their careers.

My clinical background also plays a significant role in how I teach. Before coming to SLCC, I worked in a wide range of healthcare settings with individuals from diverse backgrounds. Those experiences taught me the importance of communication, ethical practice, and cultural competence. As such, I strive to create a classroom grounded in trust, compassion, and equity, where all students feel respected and supported.

The pro bono clinic is one of the most meaningful extensions of this philosophy. It gives students the opportunity to work alongside licensed physical therapists and physical therapist assistants while providing care to members of our community who may not otherwise have access. It is where learning, service, and professional growth come together in the most meaningful way.

ANN B. FILLMORE

School of Humanities and Social Sciences

Beyond Spanglish: Spanish and Bilingualism in the American West

What does it mean to speak Spanish in the United States?

This question is at the center of my research. At SLCC, where many students come from bilingual and Spanish-speaking communities, it is both personal and academic. It is also central to my Spring 2027 lecture, which will explore the history, development, and significance of Spanish in the western United States.

Nearly one third of students at SLCC identify as Latinx or Hispanic, yet Spanish spoken in the U.S. is still widely misunderstood and often treated as less legitimate than other varieties, with some claiming it has been “corrupted” by English. Linguistic research shows otherwise. Spanish in the U.S. has developed through a long history of migration, cultural exchange, and language contact, and it continues to evolve today. In this lecture, I will trace this history, and I will examine the social and political contexts surrounding Spanish in the U.S., including bilingual identity, language attitudes, and language policy.

I also plan to discuss certain language features that are common in the region, often labeled “Spanglish,” and reframe them as evidence of linguistic creativity and bilingual competence rather than decline.

The DISTINGUISHED FACULTY LECTURER is a recognition of quality work by one of Salt Lake Community College’s full-time faculty and a charge to develop that work over an academic year into a public presentation. A committee chosen by the Associate Provost for Learning Advancement selects the faculty lecturer each year. The lecture takes place in the spring.

DARLENE CANDICE BACKUS PIERUCCI

Utah House of Representatives, District 49

Since her election to the Utah House of Representatives in 2018, Representative Candice Pierucci has been a dedicated advocate for education and a strong champion for Salt Lake Community College. As the youngest woman ever elected to the Utah Legislature, she has focused her work on expanding opportunity and strengthening pathways for students across the state.

Early in her legislative service, Representative Pierucci was appointed to the House Education Committee, which helps shape policy for Utah's education system. In 2023, she was named chair of the committee, and in 2025, she was elected by her colleagues to serve in House leadership as Majority Whip. She also serves on the Executive Appropriations Committee, the Public Education Appropriations Subcommittee, and the House Government Operations Committee.

Representative Pierucci has developed a strong and sustained connection with SLCC. Early in her tenure, she visited campus to better understand the college, and she continues to regularly engage with the institution's leadership and students. She consistently advocates for funding and policies that support SLCC's mission and was instrumental in securing funding for the Herriman Campus, which began serving students in August 2024.

In recognition of her leadership, Representative Pierucci has received several honors over the years, including the Council of State Governments' 20 Under 40 Award, the Americans for Prosperity Legislator of the Year Award, and the Utah National Guard's Minuteman Award. She has also served as a board member for the Utah Honor Flight program.

Representative Pierucci earned a bachelor's degree in political science from Utah Valley University (UVU) and a master's degree in public administration from the University of Utah. In addition to her legislative duties, she teaches American Government as an adjunct professor at UVU. She and her husband are the parents of two children, Benjamin and Quincy.

The Salt Lake Community College LEGISLATIVE CHAMPION AWARD honors state legislators who demonstrate through their legislative activities a commitment to advancing and improving higher education for the state. The college's Legislative Champion is selected at the conclusion of every legislative session.

PROVOST'S GRADUATES OF EXCELLENCE is a prestigious distinction that acknowledges students for their hard work, commitment, and talents. One student is chosen from each school within the college as well as General Studies. These students have excellent GPAs, and most of them have been recipients of various scholarships and awards for their academic achievements. The Provost's Graduates of Excellence have also demonstrated strong leadership skills and a dedication to serving others, along with other notable accomplishments and involvement in SLCC beyond the classroom.

SCHOOL OF ARTS, COMMUNICATION AND MEDIA

CAROLINA LOZANO-ASHTON

This is my second time attending SLCC. I previously graduated with my associate's degree while still in high school. My path has not been linear, but each step has been intentional, guided by resilience, gratitude, and a deep respect for education. My academic journey began in a small town in my native Colombia, and then I moved to the United States to continue my studies. At SLCC, I've had the opportunity to become a student leader and mentor, and after graduating I plan to attend the University of Utah to study Mechanical Engineering and Mathematics, focusing on researching wearable robotics and prosthetic apparel.

GAIL MILLER BUSINESS SCHOOL

WENDY MEMMOTT

In high school, I always dreamed of becoming a paralegal, but life took me in a different direction. After getting married, I focused on raising my family and building a career with a job that, while stable, never fulfilled my passion. Now, more than 30 years later, I find myself at SLCC pursuing that very dream in paralegal studies, filled with the same passion as before. As my time at SLCC comes to an end, I cannot help but reflect on my journey here. While part of me wishes I had attended the college sooner, I am grateful that I did, because going back to school has been one of the greatest experiences of my life. The biggest lesson I've learned through my academic experience is that a person is never too old to set a new goal or chase a dream.

GENERAL STUDIES

JASMINE SMITH

My experience at SLCC has been life changing. This institution has allowed me to prove to myself, semester after semester, that I am capable, intelligent, and not defined by my past. In high school, I struggled academically due to challenges with self-image, depression, and anxiety. Thanks to SLCC, I've gained confidence in myself and earned several honors, including three President's List awards. I am truly grateful for my professors' compassion, love of teaching, and belief in their students. I also want to express my gratitude to my grandpa, with whom I have grown closer since starting my academic journey at the college. I plan to continue my education at SLCC, and I hope to be accepted into nursing school.

ANGELA MENCL

My life has two main parts: before September 2018 and after. Before, I focused on supporting my family, helping my late husband in dental school, and raising our children. In September 2018, I lost both my sister and husband just one day apart, making me the sole parent of four children under the age of seven. I had to adjust to this new reality and provide stability for them while grieving. These experiences taught me that I don't just have to be here; I get to be here. I approach my education and clinical work with gratitude and professionalism. I also volunteer at a grief support center for families. I could not have reached this point in my education without the support of my children and family and the faculty at SLCC.

SCHOOL OF HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

MARIAH ESPINAL

My higher education journey began with a deep sense of ambition, but it was soon interrupted by a chronic illness. This illness took control of my life, leading to instability, hospitalizations, and a gradual erosion of the dreams I once believed were attainable. For years, I carried guilt and shame from my academic failures that were due to this illness. However, with a friend's encouragement, I decided to return to college. SLCC welcomed me with compassion, challenged me with rigorous academics, and equipped me with the tools I needed to succeed. In spring 2025, I participated in SLCC's first-ever trip to the United Nations, an opportunity that profoundly shaped my academic direction. I now carry with me a commitment to excellence, service, and dignity that will guide every step of my future. SLCC has given me more than just a second chance; it has taught me to believe in my future again.

CARLOS SALINAS

In high school, I never thought about going to college because I believed I wasn't as smart as my peers. My enrollment at SLCC happened by chance – I was allowed to skip class if I attended an SLCC presentation. I went to the presentation, but for most of it, I wasn't paying attention because I was dismissing the programs and opportunities, thinking I wasn't good enough to take part. That all changed when they started talking about incentives, and suddenly, I became interested. My time at SLCC has helped change my mindset, and I've become the person I always admired. SLCC led me to discover a passion for electrical engineering, even though I thought I was bad at math. I have proven myself wrong time and again. As my journey at SLCC ends, I am thankful for how much I've personally grown. To my high school self, who felt unsure about college, I am doing this for you.

SCHOOL OF TECHNICAL AND PROFESSIONAL SPECIALTIES

JACEE PAGE

My journey at SLCC has been shaped not only by my academic experiences but by my courage, creativity, and personal growth. I often found myself as one of the few, if not the only, women in my program, which led to feelings of anxiety and a sense of not belonging. Despite my fears, I was able to build a supportive community with my professors and peers, who strengthened my confidence and enriched my experience at SLCC both inside and outside the classroom. Balancing school, work, and family responsibilities has taught me that excellence is not achieved alone; it is supported by a strong community. After graduating from SLCC, I plan to continue my education at Weber State University and pursue a bachelor's degree in product design development. My ultimate goal is to engage in work that challenges me intellectually, fulfills me creatively, and makes a meaningful impact on my community.

SALT LAKE TECHNICAL COLLEGE

MARYLYN DIAZ

My life has been full of many ups and downs. In 2025, I made the decision to attend SLCC, and shortly after, I lost my father to cancer, a loss that has been incredibly difficult to overcome. Despite my grief, I kept working toward my educational goals, as my father was a huge supporter of my return to school. I am grateful to my peers and professors who supported me throughout this process. They helped with everything from making funeral arrangements to ensuring I didn't fall behind in my studies. Without their assistance, I wouldn't have been able to maintain my 4.0 GPA. Looking back on my SLCC experience, I feel immense gratitude for a college community that was willing to help me in every possible way. I will always remember the kindness that was shown to me during this challenging time.

CONGRATULATIONS!

STOLE OF GRATITUDE

Hasn't every graduate had a special person who, through moral or financial support, made a big difference in their life? How does a graduate demonstrate appreciation for a person who helped turn their dream into reality?

A student may wear a Stole of Gratitude during the Commencement Ceremony. After the ceremony, the new graduate presents the Stole of Gratitude to someone who provided extraordinary help or support, such as a parent, relative, or mentor. The Stole of Gratitude is a lasting symbol of love, appreciation, and academic accomplishment at Salt Lake Community College.

More than one stole may be worn during commencement, symbolizing that there are multiple persons destined to receive Stoles of Gratitude. Recipients will never forget the kindness inherent in the recognition and sentimental feelings connected with being presented the Stole of Gratitude.
