Does a strong functioning democracy matter to you and your students? Are you currently using service-learning pedagogy or just generally incorporating community engagement as an experiential teaching strategy? If so, you may be interested in further investigating the civic literacy student learning outcome (CLSLO) resources at SLCC. A rubric and reflection prompts exist to support the implementation of the CLSLO. Join us for an interactive workshop where we will dive into the resources created while also devising strategies for curricular integration. Lunch will be served!
