- General Commendations and Recommendations from our Site Review Team (pgs. 21-23):
  - The Thayne Center should be commended on its efforts to fulfill its mission and in turn to help fulfill the college's mission. The Thayne Center is a successful arm in the college that more than achieves its mission.
  - While its success is undeniable, there is little room to grow, let alone make people more aware of the Thayne Center, due to capacity issues. [The center] should be known as a learning center, one that is based on pedagogically-sound teaching and learning principles.
  - Revise the mission of the Thayne Center.
  - Hire an Assistant Director.
  - Create more visibility in the community and within the college.
  - Revitalize academic service-learning and better incorporate community-based learning as a high impact practice throughout the college.
